Beach Road repairs authorized

By ELLIS CUEVAS
A telephone call made Christmas eve early for the political leaders of Hancock County, Bay St. Louis and Waveland Friday.

E.L. Shaw, U.S. Department of Transportation Federal Highway Administration engineer, Jackson, Miss. called Supervisor President A.A. (Dolph) Kellar, Bay Mayor Larry Bennett and Waveland Mayor Johnny Longo to advise them that Beach Road will be repaired as an Emergency Relief project.

Kellar said, "I am glad to see the Beach Road approved as an Emergency Relief program, I feel a lot better this morning."

Bay Mayor Larry Bennett commented, "It just goes to show what cooperation between the governing bodies can do."

Waveland Mayor Longo had one word comment "fantastic", right off, then added, "Everything is going our way, we will be happy to take the barricades down."

The Beach road problems developed in April when the Pearl River was at flood stage. A spring storm came in from the Gulf and pushed tides already above normal by the flood across Beach Boulevard with winds estimated at approximately 65 mph.

The wave action washed the road out in several areas, doing severe damage in Waveland, Clermont Harbor and Lakeshore.

The damage caused by the April storm was added to by Hurricane Bob pushing water over the road again, washing out more of the already damaged road.

Hurricane Frederic hit the area in September, which added to the damage.

Areas of the Beach Road had to be closed to traffic because of the extensive amount of road bed which was removed by the wave actions.

Numerous attempts have been made by local officials seeking aid for the repairs of the road. Several visits were made to Washington, D.C. and Jackson during the past several months.

CZM bill draws increased flak from port officials

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission came short of rejecting the Coastal Zone Management act, now pending approval by coastal municipalities, during their regular meeting Thursday evening.

All of the commissioners present voiced dissatisfaction with at least one aspect of the bill.

Commissioners Ronnie Artigues and Fred Curet were adamant in their opposition to CZM and repeatedly asked for a motion to reject the bill.

However, Commission Director Wilson Webb implored the board to hold off formal rejection of the bill until he met with Washington officials

Friday. Curet countered, "You're asking for direction from the board and now you're trying to tell us what to do."

Artigues stated, "Personally I don't feel it's worth it and should be voted down tonight."

"By accepting CZM we would be getting further and further away from managing our own industrial park and port," Artigues added.

Marine Programs Manager Jerry E. Mitchell of the Mississippi Bureau of Marine Resources said, "Give us one more shot with the legislation tomorrow. We probably will get more insight into CZM after meeting with Bill Matuzeski, director of state programs for the office of CZM."

John Genn, commission attorney, stated, "Control is the issue here. Even if CZM would give $25 million just to Hancock County it still wouldn't be worth losing control of our industrial park."

"I recommend that the commission reject CZM. The MBMR can promise us anything, but based on my interpretation of the legislation, their

News Briefs

CZM JOINT MEETING

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors and the County Port and Harbor Commission will meet jointly at 9 a.m. Tuesday to decide whether to accept or reject the Coastal Zone Management bill. Both groups will meet on the second floor of the County Courthouse, Main Street, Bay St. Louis in the Board of Supervisor's Conference Room.

OPEN HOUSE

The Commanding Officer, Naval Oceanographic Office, is hosting an "Open House" to increase the use of small business sources in the acquisition of supplies and equipment required in support of the mission of the Naval Oceanography Command and the Naval Ocean Research and Development Activity. Small business persons are invited to attend from 10:00 A.M. to 2:00 P.M. on Nov. 16 at building 2420 (River House), National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County. Engineering, technical and purchasing representatives will be present to provide assistance to prospective suppliers. For further information, please contact Gloria Schmidt of Don, Burkell 601-688-4162.

DRUG ABUSE PROGRAM

The Bay-Waveland Altruism Club will sponsor a drug abuse program on Wednesday, Nov. 14, 7:30 p.m., at the City-County Library in Bay St. Louis. Special speaker will be Eddie Hodges, a professional singer from Gulfport. The program is open to the public free of charge.

HARVEST DINNER

The Annual Harvest Dinner of Christ Episcopal Women of the Church will be held in Bay St. Louis, Thursday, November 15 from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. There will be a large selection of foods from which to choose. Included in the menu will be turkey, ham, sweet potatoes, dressing, salads, spinach, rice, and choice of desserts.

Tickets for the dinner are $5.00. Takes outs are available.

ADVERTISING CLUB MEETING

The Mississippi Gulf Coast Advertising Club will hold its regular meeting Mon., Nov. 12, noon at the Western Sizzlin', Courthouse Road, Gulfport. The program will be presented by Walley Hall, Convention Director of Mississippi Gulf Coast Convention Bureau.

SCOUT PROJECT

All neighborhood Brownies, Juniors, Cadettes and Senior Scouts are again selling calendars as a fund raising project. A percentage of the profit goes to the Gulf Pines Girl Scout Council. The cost of the calendars this year will be one dollar each, according to Marilyn Hill, due to inflation.

HOMECOMING VICTORIES

The Bay High Tigers defeated the St. John Eagles 29-24 in a thriller Friday for a Homecoming victory. The Tigers are now 4-5 for the season, their best record in years. The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chews defeated the East Central Hornets 21-6 for their football Homecoming victory. The Rocks are now 5-4 for the season. See stories on Page 7-A.

'Big Brother' advocate nabbed

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Joseph Kenneth France, 56, Teal Street, Shoreline Park was arrested Saturday afternoon and charged with possession of marijuana and paraphernalia, contributing to the delinquency of a minor and unlawful sex acts, according to Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner.

France, who also uses the professional name of Joe Kenny, according to Sheriff Ladner was involved in the allegedly accidental shooting of neighbor Alvin Seely on June 30.

Seely later died in a New Orleans hospital.

Bond has been set at $5,000 for the unlawful sex act and contributing to the delinquency of a minor and France also has a bond of $2,500 for the possession of the marijuana.

In late July France presented a proposal for the establishment of a Big Brother, Big Sister Program for the area.

Numerous leading citizens were in attendance at the meeting held in the

Sills, school board confer

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Hancock County School Board Superintendent-Elect Billy D. Sills met Saturday with the County School Board in executive session to state his position regarding various county school issues.

"I wanted to clear the air about rumors running rampant through the county by meeting with the board," Sills stated.

Sills said, "I pledged to furnish leadership for the board, to do the best job I possibly can, do a better public relations job for the county school system and to work more closely with the County School Board and Board of Supervisors."

"We also discussed the short- and long-range needs of the school system in detail," Sills added.

Six persons injured in US-90 mishap

By RICH ADAMS

Six persons were injured in a two-vehicle collision Friday morning on US-90 in front of the Wheel Inn Restaurant, according to Bay St. Louis Police Chief Douglas Williams.

A small Chevrolet pick-up truck driven by Joseph Zengarling, 78, Box 408, Bay St. Louis, apparently drove into the eastbound lane of the highway and into the path of a car driven by Patricia Parson, 24, Route 2 Box 686, Bay St. Louis, the chief reported.

Zengarling was trapped in his small truck and Bay St. Louis policemen and firemen, assisted by Hancock County Sheriff's deputies, pried the door open and removed him.

He was taken to Hancock General Hospital by Mobile Medic where he was treated for minor abrasions and cuts, and is presently in the hospital under observation, Williams said.

Parson and four passengers, Angela Parson, eight-months-old, Mary Parson, four-years-old, Patricia Parson, three-years-old, and Karen Hays, 16-years-old, were also taken to the hospital by Mobile Medic for treatment.

Walter Phillips named Veterans Day speaker

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Annual Veterans Day parade sponsored by Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Post No. 139 will be held Monday.

The parade is open to all Veteran, Auxiliary, Boy and Girl Scout, and marching groups. The students of the various schools as well as their bands will perform, and are all invited.

Special speaker will be Walter James Phillips, Bay St. Louis Attorney. Special speaker in 1978 was Waveland Attorney Lucien Gex and in 1977, Bay Attorney Walter Gex, III.

Phillips was a graduate of Bay St. Louis High School and attended the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn. before attending the University of Mississippi.

He received a BA degree and completed two years of Law School before going into the U.S. Army where he was selected to attend Officers Training School from which he graduated a Second Lieutenant.

During the War, Phillips was a platoon leader of a rifle squad with the 63rd Infantry Division. He was wounded in action and received a Purple Heart.

After the war, Phillips served on General Dwight D. Eisenhower's Headquarters of the European Theatre, in the Information and Education Division.

After the war he obtained a Law degree from the University of Mississippi in 1947. He has practiced law in Bay St. Louis since.

In 1951 he ran for the House of Representatives for the Hancock County School District and served in that office for 12 years.

Parade chairman for Post 139 is Lucien Kidd and J. D. (Big John) Rutherford, Americanism chairman.

The parade will form at Bay Junior High on Carroll Avenue starting at 9:45 a.m. The parade will leave the marching area at 10 a.m., proceed to Beach, Main Street, Second Street to Union, return to Beach and main, and to the Hancock County Courthouse for the 11 a.m. ceremony.

A special invitation is extended to World War I Veterans to appear at the courthouse ceremony.

All citizens and business establishments are encouraged to fly their American Flags in honor of the occasion.

The scheduled day for Veterans Day is Sunday, Nov. 11 but will be celebrated throughout the nation on Monday, according to Legion members.

Motorcycle accident kills one

By RICH ADAMS

A Waveland man was killed Wednesday after apparently losing control of a motorcycle on which he was riding and sliding 350-400 feet down US-90 near the weigh scales in Pearlinton, according to Highway Patrolman Hershel Ladner.

46-year-old Clifford Dale Ratliff, 2101 Nicholson Ave., Waveland, was pronounced dead on arrival at Hancock General Hospital at approximately 5:20 p.m. Wednesday evening as a result of blood loss and internal injuries resulting from the mishap, Ladner said.

"There were no witnesses at the crash scene. He apparently lost control of the motorcycle and slid 350 to 400 feet down the highway," Ladner reported. "Other than concrete scratches, there was no damage to the motorcycle," he added.

Ladner said Ratliff was transported to Hancock General Hospital by Mobile Medic, and was pronounced dead on arrival.

Assisting in the investigation is the Hancock County Sheriff's Department.

The superintendent-elect said he plans to make regular two week education updates in the local news media to inform the public about what is happening in the county schools from the student's and administrator's standpoint.

"We've got to work with the people of Hancock County and keep them informed. I've got nothing to hide," Sills remarked.

"I would like all the support of the people who voted for me and my opponent to promote a better education system in every respect," he added.

County School Board President Woodrow Ladner responded, "Mr. Sills' ideas were very well presented and well received by the board. I think that the entire board looks forward to a very good relationship with the new superintendent."

Also at Saturday's meeting, John Logan of the Data Processing Center, Hattiesburg, proposed a computerized bookkeeping system for the county school system which will initially cost $25,580, have a monthly $181 maintenance charge plus an initial 20 cent per mile mileage payment for instructional personnel to train county school staff on the equipment.

Logan claims the system will simplify bookkeeping procedures and save an enormous amount of time computing taxes on various accounts.

Woodrow Ladner expressed an interest in the system, taking the matter under advisement until the next meeting.

Board President Ladner stated, "The purchase of the equipment can be made without bidding through the state contract price book."

In other business the board unanimously approved:

Authorizing Terry Randolph and Harlin Hill attend a meeting on Public Law 815 and 874 (School Assistance in Federally Affected Areas) to be held on Tuesday, Nov. 27, 1979 at 9:30 a.m. in Jackson;

Authorizing the release of Larry T. Giveans Jr. to attend Bay-Waveland School District for the second 1979-80 school year;

Leasing 105 acres of lieu land in Section 17-5-15, for $4,000 per year, to Mr. & Mrs. Aubry Sanders.

OLA conducts Big Sister-Little Sister initiations

Big sister-little sister, an annual event at Our Lady's Academy concerning the seniors and freshmen, enables the classes to form a valuable companionship as the seniors assist the young freshmen through their first year of high school.

Initiation was held on Tuesday, October 6. The seniors dressed their little sisters as space people and the freshmen had to fulfill the requests of their big sisters, like carrying their books and running errands.

This was the fun part of big sister-little sister, especially for the seniors.

The serious part came on Wednesday night with the candlelight ceremony held in Our Lady of the Gulf Church in Bay St. Louis.

Ellie Battalora, chosen by the senior class, gave a speech on the meaning of friendship with the little sisters; Mitzi Plessala, chosen by the freshman class, spoke on what having big sisters means to them. This was a semi-formal affair.

The freshmen and their big sisters include:

Jackson Methodist Children's Home attempts to curb child abuse

Holiday gifts to the United Methodist Children's Home is a primary way of "breaking the chain of child abuse," according to a leading Jackson bone surgeon, Dr. William C. Warner.

Dr. Warner explained that "Abused children grow up to be parents that abuse their children, thus a child abuse cycle or chain is created."

Warner, who serves as President of the Board of Directors and Trustees of the United Methodist Children's Home, made the statement this week in connection with an annual appeal for Holiday gifts for the child-care institution.

According to Dr. Warner, "Thousands of children each year feel the sting of child abuse." He said, "Physically abused, neglected, unwanted and misguided, these children must face some of the most difficult and perplexing problems."

"Broken homes, alcoholism, drug addiction and many other adult problems are their inheritance," he added.

The Jackson physician believes that one of the primary missions of church-related child care institutions is to break this chain.

"Through love and care in a Christian environment, the wounds heal and the children become Christians," he said.

"This makes a new chain - Christian parents have Christian children," according to Dr. Warner, "What a difference! There is love and affection," he added.

Dr. Warner was joined by the Rev. J. H. Morrow, Jr., Executive Director of the United Methodist Children's Home, in the annual appeal for holiday help.

"With an inflation rate of more than 14 percent for the current year, we must receive very generous special help during November and December in order not to have a sizeable operational deficit by the end of the year," he

A change in voting methods should be about due!

For many years the paper ballot has been used for recording votes in Hancock County.

If we went back into the records we would probably find the light bulb, automobile, telephone, radio, airplane and television are some of the items which have come into being during the history of paper ballots in Hancock County.

With all of these inventions it sure looks like some improvement should have been made many years ago on the type of voting we use in the county.

The polls close on election night and the candidates, their supporters and friends wait, and wait, and wait some more for the returns to come in from the various precincts.

Now the folks involved with the tallying of the ballots usually were up before six the morning before and sometimes they do not return home until after six the next morning.

The longer a person works, the slower they become, and the more chance of errors being committed. Now this goes for any person, no matter the job.

Right here in Hancock County, the engines which put man on the moon were tested, and yet we still use the paper ballot.

We have more people as qualified electors probably than ever before, more persons are interested in political offices, all this leads to a longer time to count the ballots after the polls close.

There should be some voting system which could be used and understood by the electors of Hancock County-and the county be able to afford.

Now, we do not claim to know very much about voting machines or voting systems, but, we are sure they must have something faster and better than the paper ballot. If reports we hear are correct from Louisiana, the type of voting machine used by them may not be the answer.

The people who are election managers, should all be commended for the job they do under the conditions which they work.

The Circuit Court clerk's office does a fine job during elections and Mr. Henry Otis, Deputy Carolyn Ring and the rest of the vote tallies should all be remembered for doing a fine job.

A new type of voting system in Hancock County could make the vote tallying a lot simpler and much, much faster.

Bits 'n pieces

Our comments about children and folks riding bicycles and not observing traffic signals caused us to receive a call from one of our subscribers.

This lady, whom we know rides a bicycle quite a bit for exercise, made some very interesting comments about how the drivers of autos and trucks fail to recognize the rules of traffic in regard to bicycle riders.

She stated that only last week she had two autos pull out and almost run over her while she had the right-of-way.

We called Bay St. Louis Police Chief, Douglas Williams and mentioned this to him. He told us, yes, the drivers of cars should recognize bicycle riders.

The chief said that the drivers of vehicles should treat bicycle riders just like automobiles when it comes to right-of-ways.

We hope that all of you are very careful and observe all of the laws.

There were shouts of joy from all governing bodies Friday morning when news was delivered via telephone about the Federal Government coming in and repairing the Beach Road with Emergency Relief monies.

We hope the project will be completed by next Spring for the opening of the Wave Pool at Buccaneer State Park.

A united effort can bring results, and sometimes it takes an effort by more than just one body to have something accomplished.

The Board of Supervisors of Bay St. Louis and Waveland officials should all be commended for their efforts in securing the much needed aide for the Beach Road.

Talking about things which never seem to get completed, we just wonder when and if the Hospitality Station at the intersection of I-10 and 607 will ever become complete.

To us, it seems we have been waiting years upon years for the facility, and we are still waiting.

Some projects seem to go on forever and forever, and it looks like it may be the year 2000 before the Hospitality Station is completed and opened to the public.

Final Frederic trash pickup begins Nov. 26

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The City of Bay St. Louis will make a final round of trash pickup left from Hurricane Frederic starting on Monday, Nov. 26 according to Mayor Larry Bennett.

"I would like to request that any resident with trash left from Frederic try and have it on the side of the street before Monday morning, as the City employees will make one pass down a street and not go back later in the week," was Bennett's appeal to the citizens.

Bay St. Louis currently has a contract with Gulf Coast Waste to pickup garbage and also trash. The trash, in order for it to be picked up by the contractor, must be bound and bundled into certain sizes set forth in a city ordinance.

Mayor Bennett said the reason for waiting until the last week of the month was to give the residents an opportunity to have the Thanksgiving weekend to clean up their yards.

The City will use personnel from the street and public grounds departments for the trash pickup.

Several weeks after Frederic, the City workers under the direction of Bill Johnson, superintendent of Utilities, hauled tons and tons of debris from one end of the City to the other in an operation which took about nine days.

Mayor Bennett said he hopes the City would be able to do the complete job in one week. A front end loader will be used to pick up the trash.

At the regular Council meeting on Tuesday, Mayor Bennett asked the Council to consider the institution of a new City trash pickup on a regular basis.

Council members were in agreement and asked that a proposed ordinance be drawn up and presented to them. Mayor Bennett and the superintendent are to get together and present an ordinance to the council.

Bennett mentioned at the meeting one more time that pick up of trash is necessary because, "A lot of people could not get the debris out in time for the first cleanup."

Johnson, cautions residents about leaves, which are plentiful this time of year, requesting the use of containers such as plastic bags.

"Leaves are very hard to pick up, and the best way to handle them is to place them in plastic bags. Gulf Coast Waste will also pick up the leaves when they are properly handled by the residents," Johnson added.

Health and Safety Tip Cosmetic Surgery Helps Appearance

Physical appearance is our calling card. An attractive and pleasant appearance opens doors.

It is not merely vanity that prompts tens of thousands of Americans to turn to cosmetic surgery to seek improvement of physical appearance. The mental shock of "dumbo" ears can mark a boy for life, the American Medical Association points out.

The most common cosmetic surgical procedure is the rhinoplasty — the "nose job." The surgeon removes excess bone and cartilage to reduce the hump on a prominent nose. For proper facial harmony, chins are sometimes built up with bone or cartilage transplants in an operation called mentoplasty.

Hanging upper eyelids that give a look of fatigue and aging can be corrected by removing excess skin and fat. The operation is called blepharoplasty. Bags under the eyes are included in this procedure. The widely known "face lift" is actually called rhytidoplasty. Incisions are made close to the ear and in the hairline and the skin is redraped into a more youthful position. Excess skin is removed. The aging process continues, however, and the face lift must be repeated after a few years.

Surgery to correct protruding ears — otoplasty — is usually performed just prior to the child's entering school. This protects the child from the teasing by schoolmates that may arise from his appearance. The incision usually is hidden on the back side of the ear.

Breast enhancement through implanting of a silicone prosthesis sometimes is sought. Injection of liquid silicone into the breast has been found to be harmful and is no longer done. Enlarged, sagging breasts can be reduced by surgery to remove excess tissue and reshape the breast.

Plastic surgical operations do not magically give new talents or personalities to people. Rather, they take away a liability so that the person's own natural talents and personality can develop normally.

October 30, 1979

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS will be November 15. Enclosed is your ballot or ballots. They must be returned by noon, November 15. At the regular monthly meeting, November 27, the old and new boards will meet and new officers for 1980 will be elected.

ENERGY, ENERGY, ENERGY- That is a word we hear every day! This national and local problem affects us in everything we do. Jeannette Monti Purchner, special events chairman, has lined up a speaker to discuss the problems we encounter a little closer to home. Morning Edition will be held Tuesday, November 20 at Scafield's Wheel Inn Restaurant. The speaker is Stew McHie, district sales manager for EXXON, Inc. This informative morning coffee will begin at 7:15 a.m. Coffee and doughnuts will be served, compliments of EXXON, Inc. Reservations are not necessary.

THE ANNUAL CHAMBER BANQUET will be held December 7 at Diamondhead Country Club. We are honored to have as our guests speakers John M. Ranson, plant manager, and William F. Patient, vice president of operations with Borg-Warner Chemicals. The Keesler Male Chorus will once again provide entertainment, and, as always, Diamondhead promises a delicious meal. The tickets are $12.50 per person, and must be purchased in advance. Last year we had to turn people away since the seating capacity is only 250. Please make your reservations early. You will receive more information later in the month concerning this gala affair.

SPECIAL RECOGNITION should be given to the retailers that participated in the Hancock County Fair earlier this month. The following merchants had booths at the fair: Adams' Florist, Flower Shop, Coast Chronicle, G&M Auto & Electric, Hancock Insurance Agency, The Little Mushroom, Monti Electric Supply Co., The Sea Coast Echo and Tull's Bay-Front Bedding. This was the second year for the retailers to participate in the fair and we hope you will talk to these merchants and get their responses on the success of the event. The Chamber also had a booth, and displayed the different segments of business, education, civic and government, which we participate in daily.

THE OUTSTANDING RETAILER OF THE MONTH for September was Consuela Williams. Consuela is employed at the Frostop Drive Inn. The Frostop is owned and operated by Tyson McMahon. Consuela was chosen by the "secret shoppers" for her outstanding attitude and the courtesy she extends to the customers at Frostop. A $25 savings bond was presented to her for this honor. Remember! The "secret shoppers" are everywhere! Will you or someone who works for you be recognized next month?

TRAFFIC LIGHT-HIGHWAY 90 AND BEACH BLVD. We met with Robert Moseley, assistant traffic control and safety engineer for the Mississippi State Highway Department. Mr. Moseley said that the Highway Department will conduct a study of the traffic accidents at the Highway 90 and Beach Blvd., intersection. The board of directors will stay in touch with Mr. Moseley until a solution is reached to help stop the traffic accidents at this intersection. The directors would like to commend Chief Douglas Williams and his staff for their assistance in supplying a copy of each accident report at this intersection for the past four years.

PLANNING AND ZONING COMMISSIONS- A task force, chaired by Vice President Wayne Ducomb, met with the president of the Planning and Zoning Commissions of Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Hancock County. This task force is currently formulating plans to insure uniform planning on Highway 90. A study of this complex situation is being requested from the board of directors to the Mississippi State Highway Department.

SIGN REGULATION ORDINANCES- According to Warren Carver, beautification committee chairman, a letter has been sent to the Mayors of Bay St. Louis and Waveland requesting that a sign regulation ordinance be put into effect immediately. If a sign regulation ordinance is on the books, then Mr. Carver's committee requests that it be enforced. This would help keep Hancock County beautiful.

WELCOME TO OUR NEWEST 1979 CHAMBER MEMBERS- President Dick Thomas would like to welcome the following new 1979 members: Bradford's Seafood, Jordan Bradford, owner; Welcome Wagon Hostess, Margery J. Darling; Ann Bennett Ladner, individual member; Waveland Avenue Realty, Delmar Wilcox; The Furniture Clinic, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Penton; Colonial Baking Company, Sherman Strider, manager; Billy Sills, individual member; and W. T. Pittman, individual member; Peggy Gibbons, Interior Designer.

Influenza innoculations continue here

By RICH ADAMS

The Hancock County Health Department reports some 400 people have received influenza inoculations since the department began giving the free shots last month.

The Bay St. Louis office reported Friday that there is no shortage of the flu vaccine despite a shortage reported by some counties in the state.

"A good number of people have come in to receive the shots and we are not running short," a Health Department spokesman said Friday.

Herb Loy, coordinator of the State Board of Health influenza immunization program reported, however, that some county health departments in the state have run short of the vaccine, but a new shipment of the medicine should be "more than ample."

"Supplies in some county health department ran short last week because so many people were asking for flu shots," Loy said.

"With the delivery of more vaccine, health professionals in these counties should be able to fill all requests," he added.

The influenza immunization program is aimed at "high risk" people — those 65 and older and those who have heart trouble, lung disease, kidney disease, diabetes, anemia, or other chronic illness. "They're the people who may find flu a tough or impossible disease to beat," Loy continued.

Oyster season opens Monday

BY WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
What experts are predicting will be one of the worst seasons on record for the Coast's oyster industry begins tomorrow with the opening of four reefs at sunrise.
The Mississippi Wildlife Conservation Commission last week approved the opening date recommendation by Bureau of Marine Resources Director Dr. Richard Leard and accepted Leard's advice on which reefs should be opened to oystermen trying to salvage what little they can out of a disastrous situation.
One of the reefs, the White House reef in Biloxi, will remain closed due to a high bacteria count discovered in testing last week by State Board of Health officials, Leard reported.
The Waveland Reef, the reef between the US-90 automobile bridge and the L&N railroad bridge in Bay St. Louis, and the Bayou Cumbest and Bangs Lake reefs in Jackson County will open, the director said.
"We'll try to notify oystermen as soon as we are able to open the White House reef," Leard said Friday.
There will be a limit of four barrels, or 12 sacks, per boat per day at each of the reefs.
Leard said the season probably would end sometime around Christmas.
"That's about all the time we're going to have for oystering this year," he said.

"We've had such a loss in the oysters," added Commission Member Billy Gollott of Biloxi. "What we're trying to do is give the folks a little money around Thanksgiving and Christmas."
Record flooding upstate and the subsequent opening of the Bonnet Carre Spillway near New Orleans in the spring coupled to wipe out most of the Coast's oyster population. As a result, Leard and other marine officials have been predicting only minimal oyster hauls.

Proposal meets opposition

Bay council gives go-ahead for subdivision drainage

By ELLIS CUEVAS
The Bay St. Louis Council authorized the acceptance of an earlier proposal of James Chiniche for a study of the drainage of western Bay St. Louis, primarily Spanish Acres subdivision.
The vote was 4-1 in favor of the proposal with Council Member Harry Farve opposing. When the proposal was originally brought before the Council Farve commented that the City had received "too many proposals already on Spanish Acres."
Reportedly at least two previous studies have been made on the drainage problems in Spanish Acres and several of the Council members expressed the need of another since the two they have are in disagreement.
Chiniche reported that his work is not completed on his recommendations for drainage improvements in the Dunbar and deMontluzin areas. He said that there will be some work which has to be done to solve the problem such as raising, lowering, replacing with larger and cleaning out of some of the culverts to give relief in those areas plagued with water in heavy rains.

A final recommendation will be forthcoming according to the engineer.
A survey of the property at the corner of Necaise and State Streets showed that a homeowners fence was on the city right of way.
A lengthy discussion followed and on a vote to continue the matter passed 4-1 with James Thriffley voting against the motion.
Council members expressed concern about Dr. Michael Smith, president of Advanced Designs, Inc. not being present at the regular meeting.
Council rejected an earlier proposal by Smith on an extensive master plan of Main Street.
A motion to hire the firm of Joe Brown Engineers to submit a proposal was made and it passed by a 4-1 vote with Farve objecting.
A letter was to be sent to Dr. Smith advising him that the Council expects his appearance at the next regular meeting to give a report on the Leonhard Street well as well as other projects his firm is doing for the City.
Council was unanimous in supporting the appointment of Jeanette Monti Purchner on the library board replacing Judy McCormick who recently relocated.

Billy Breland was unanimously appointed to the Parks and Playgrounds Commission replacing Jerry Seuzeneau who resigned because of his new job.
Mayor Larry Bennett made the two board appointment recommendations.
Board Attorney Joseph Gex read a letter he received from the firm of Burk and Associates, the engineers for the restoration of the 500 block of Main street.
The letter recommended the Council accept the work of the contractor. Council members only accepted the letter as part of the record and took no further action on the matter.
During the discussion Gex commented that the Council had two choices, "either accept or go to court."
Mayor Bennett mentioned the fact that the City could receive a lower fire insurance rating if a fire truck would be placed North of Highway 90. The mayor said he has located a trailer in Jackson which could be used for no charge, just moving costs.
Since trailers are only allowed in specified areas, Council decided to petition the board of variances for the use of the trailer only for a 12 month period.
In other business the Council set the date for hearing on two property clean-ups.

Injured.....

The five were treated and released to the care of Dr. Magee, Williams added.
Zengarling was cited by officials for failure to yield right of way, and Ms. Parson was cited for driving without a license on her possession.
Assisting in the investigation is Bay Police Investigator Jim Mallini.
Conducting traffic control were Bay Policemen Alvin Favre and Harris Boudreaux; Hancock County Sheriff's Deputy Delbert Seay; and members of the Bay St. Louis Fire Department.

Beach Road....

Kellar said that people from the Federal Bureau of Public Roads will come down next week to inspect the road to assess the amount of damage.
When asked what the board would do if the inspectors were to come down on Tuesday during the Board's meeting, Kellar replied, "We would have a very, very short meeting and recess."
The inspection will be an extensive one, Kellar said. "They will check the entire road, top, bottom and sides."
No price tag has been placed on the approval according to Shaw, Kellar reported, adding "The road is to be brought back to the way it was after Betsy repairs."
Kellar said that after the inspection by the Federal team that engineer Larry Seals will draw up the plans and specifications.
The project will cover the entire road from the mouths of Bayou Caddy to the Jourdan River for the Hurricane Frederic Emergency monies.
A big benefactor of the Beach Road repairs will be Buccaneer State Park at the western tip of Waveland.
The main entrance to the 1.3 Million Wave Pool nearly completed depends on the road for an entrance.
The park has a back entrance, but it is hard to locate by out-of-state visitors.
No estimate was given by Kellar in the matter of how many months the project will take.

Youth apprehended for BaySide arson

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner reports the arrest of Jack Hosey, 18, Bayside Park and a juvenile in the connection with a recent house fire in Bay Side Park.
Hosey was arrested on Nov. 4 and is now free on a $2,500 bond after being charged with arson in connection with a fire which destroyed the vacation home of Gerald Joseph Fayard Sr. on Pike street, Bay Side Park, on Oct. 31.
State Fire Marshall Norman Cowart investigated the fire and reported it as arson, according to Sheriff Ladner.
Deputy Delbert Seay investigated the fire and made the arrest of Hosey and the juvenile, who was arrested on Nov. 6 and turned over to Hancock County Youth Court officials.

Seay was aided in the investigation by Deputy Dennis Tartavouille.
Charges against the two include breaking out the windows of a house trailer and the windshield of a truck on Pike Street near the house which burned, according to Sheriff Ladner.
"We received some good information on the case, and I have always said that the police department needs the help of residents to help solve crimes," stated Sheriff Ladner Friday.

Youth Court reports 166 cases in Sept.

The Hancock County Youth Court handled thirty-six cases through the official court process during the two-month period which ended October 31st.
In addition, the court, during this period of time, conducted fifteen emergency hearings on behalf of minor children who were alleged to have been either neglected or abused.

Two detention hearings were held at the request of law enforcement authorities; and an extradition hearing was held for two juveniles being held for Louisiana.
Charges during the reporting period included: forcible rape; grand larceny; breaking and entering; woods arson; parole violation; probation violation; ungovernable behavior; abuse and neglect.

One juvenile was recommended to Columbia Training School for violation of parole.
There are currently forty-nine Hancock County juveniles on court-ordered probation; four juveniles are on parole from state training schools; and seven juveniles are presently in state training schools.

In the two month period from September 1 to October 31, thirteen juveniles were detained. Twelve were males, one was a female.

Three were 12-years-old; one was 13-years-old; two were 15-years-old; five were 16-years-old; and two were 17-years-old.

Of these detainees two were held for extradition to Louisiana; three were held as escapes from training school; one was held for a short period of time approximately nine hours for D.U.I.

Three were held for drug offenses and/or probation violation and two were held for grand larceny while one was held for violating a prior release agreement.

The average time of detention was four days.
The total case load for the court during the month of September was one-hundred sixty-six youths.

promises wouldn't mean a thing," Genin said.
"We should be granted some right to run our industrial park if we are going to jump in bed with this proposal," Webre commented.
Webre explained, "If we accept this bill we couldn't develop any sites on the Pearl River which are very valuable and will help pay the bonded indebtedness on the industrial park."
Commission President J.D. McCulluch stated, "How can they ask us to vote on heresy."
Mitchell responded, "We will enter into an agreement not to enter into any enforcement activity until June 30. During that time the commission can give input as to how the program should be administered."
Genin added, "They want to make the rules after the game starts."
Webre expressed that he couldn't get MBMR to listen to Hancock County's problems with CZM and cited several amendments he requested that were refused by the bureau.
Webre echoed Genin's comments saying, "We want to differentiate that, it's not the money but, it's the loss of authority our own industrial park that is at stake here.

"But now there may be a crack in the door in talking with these government people whereas the door was completely shut before," Webre said.

Webre stated, "CZM gives an outline of water related industries but we contend that this list is incomplete."

Commissioner Dave McDonald commented, "A port authority would be a bunch of nincompoops to not put water related industries on waterfront sites."

Tuesday at 9 a.m. in the Board Room, Hancock County Courthouse, Bay St. Louis, a joint meeting between the commission and the County Board of Supervisors will decide the county's position on CZM.

In other business, at the 7:30 p.m. meeting at port and harbor offices in Waveland, the commission authorized:

—Approval of General Operating Docket, of some $3,015, which includes an annual $2,678 insurance premium for insurance for the terminal building at Stennis International Airport;

—Approval of the railroad operating docket;

—Approval of the port and harbor construction docket of $85 water sample analysis for Borge-Warner;

—Approval of industrial park revenue docket;

—Replenishment of petty cash for some $81;

—Resolution transferring $5,000 from Terminal Fund to Terminal Gulf 5 savings account;

—Resolution approving director's expenses for October, 1979, of some $15.

Webre reported on the status of:

—Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Annual Banquet featuring Borge-Warner officials as speakers;

—$104,000 insurance coverage on one hanger, office and auxiliary building at Stennis International Airport;

—On-going soil samples and clearing now underway by the commission at Borge-Warner site at Port Blenville.

POLICE INVESTIGATE—Three cars of Bay St. Louis police responded to a call of a burglary at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Russo Monday about noon. Officers Jim Mallini, Alvin Favre and Harris Boudreaux searched the area near the site of the daylight burglary. Hancock County Sheriff's office received a call Thursday from St. Bernard Police saying they had arrested Louis Kieff, Hope, La. and he told them about the burglary and also of one in Waveland. A 16-year-old youth was arrested in Bay St. Louis on Thursday and police who are holding him for the Youth Court. He was also allegedly involved in the two burglaries. (Staff photo-Ellis Cuevas)

Tigers, SSC, win homecoming victories

Rocks rout East Central

By ELLIS CUEVAS
A capacity crowd was on hand at Rock-A-Chaw Stadium as St. Stanislaus defeated East Central 21-6 for Homecoming.

Senior running back Keith Pfister tallied on runs of 46 and 15 yards, one in the first and the other in the third stanza.

As the game ended head coach Barry Jones was very pleased with his defensive play in the game and his young players.

"I was really pleased with our young players, and our secondary did a fine job. We played a good second half."

East Central, at the bottom of the Pascagoula Conference did not want to play the role as they received the opening kick-off and were driving for a score only to be stopped on the Rock 33 by a Jaun Betanzos pass interception.

After the interception by Stanislaus, they fumbled three plays later on the 30 and the Hornets Glenn Wells went in for a score two plays later on a three yard run. The conversion was wide giving East Central a 6-0 lead with 3:58 left in the first period.

Things improved for the Rocks, when four plays after the Hornet kick-off Pfister ran in for 46 yards with some nifty steps and Betanzos booted the extra point, giving the Rocks a 7-6 lead with 2:21 left in the first period.

The second period was full of mistakes for the Rocks, penalties put them in the hole time after time.

Keith Favre recovered a ball on the 20 of the Hornets, the Rocks were pushed back on penalties until they had to punt from their own 42 on fourth and long.

Stanislaus made 12 first downs to East Central's 5 and had a total yardage of 336 to 96. In penalties the Rocks had 8-110 yards and the Hornets 4-60.

The passing department was controlled by Stanislaus with 5 completions out of 7 and the Hornets with no completions out of five and losing three on interceptions.

Betanzos, Marc Meyer and Alton Ladnier each intercepted a Hornet pass.

After Homecoming crowning of the queen and a presentation by the Rock-A-Chaw and Hornet bands, East Central kicked-off to start the final half.

The Rocks took over on their own 34 with senior quarterback Gary Sotak at the controls and made the longest sustained drive of the night.

On the 14th play of the drive, Pfister got his second score. Betanzos put it through the uprights for his second conversion with 4:57 left in the third quarter giving the Rocks a 14-6 lead.

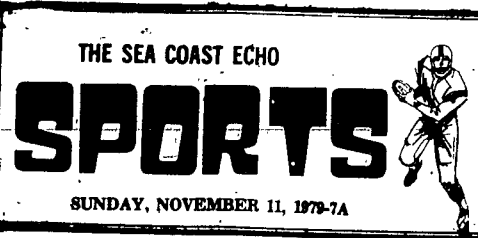

Late in the fourth quarter with less than one minute left, coach Jones sent in a team of young players.

Sophomore quarterback Joe Gex on his second play at the helm tossed back to sophomore half back Sean Logan who scampered from midfield behind some fine blocking and fancy running, scoring with only 38 seconds left on the clock. Betanzos was on target with the point after giving the Rocks a 21-6 victory.

Coach Jones in talking about the first half of the contest stated, "I really do not know what to say about the play, we made mistakes on offense, kept getting penalties. Penalties were our biggest enemy. The defense played well. We had to make some adjustments during halftime on offense."

Stanislaus is now 5-4 for the season and will travel to visit

Vance next Friday night. "We definitely have a chance to come up with a winning season, we need to believe in ourselves, and tonight I mention it again, we are proud of our young players."

Bay High edges Eagles

By RANDY PONDER

Chuck Benigno raced 21 yards for a touchdown with only 37 seconds remaining to give the Bay High Tigers a 29-24 come-from-behind win over the St. John Eagles in an exciting homecoming match.

The score capped a 55 yard drive set up after Stephen Hargett covered an onside kick on the Tiger 45.

Two plays later Quarterback Don Ginn pitched the ball to Benigno who passed downfield to Clark Brelard for 27 yards to the Eagle 28.

Three plays later Benigno took a hand off from Ginn to race for the score. He also scored on a two-point conversion after the snap from center was fumbled.

"That was just a super run. He had blocking downfield but he did a lot of it on his own, cutting back across field for the score," Head Coach James (Snuffy) Smith said about Benigno's run.

"The play was designed as an option, and he could either pass or run. St. John had our receivers covered so he had to run," Smith added.

St. John elected to receive to start the game. Beginning at their own 20 they marched in for the contest's first touchdown.

The conversion was no good and with 8:36 remaining of the first period, the Eagles led 6-0.

On the Tiger's first possession an interception by Mark Villreal, who had a great game, stopped the drive.

Several plays later, Joe Cabaniss intercepted a Marvin Koury pass on the Tiger nine.

Bay High was again able to move the ball and the Eagles took over on a fumble recovery at the Tiger 29.

The defense held and the Eagles were forced to settle for a 22-yard field goal.

Lightning struck on the ensuing kick off, and Alex Harrington picked up the ball and scampered for an 80 yard touchdown.

Hewitt Parsons covered the snap from center and passed to Allen Proulx, who went in for a two-point conversion.

The Tigers were back in the game, trailing 9-8 with 11:28 remaining in the first half.

On St. John's next possession, Van Fayard intercepted a pass to give the Tigers good field position on the Eagle eight yard line.

Three plays later Proulx took a handoff from Benigno and scored the go-ahead touchdown. The try for two extra points was unsuccessful.

Suddenly the Tigers were leading 14-9 with almost nine minutes remaining in the second stanza.

St. John took the ball on their own 20 and 10 plays and 72 yards downfield, Koury scored from the three on a keeper.

The two-point conversion was ruled good, although at first one official signaled the pass incomplete and another said it was complete.

The first half ended with St. John in the lead 17-14.

The third period began on a sour note as the Eagles received an onside kick at the Bay 46.

They were unable to take advantage and turned the ball over.

Neither team could sustain a drive and the third quarter ended with the score remaining the same.

Shortly into the final period a Cabaniss punt pinned the Eagles deep in their own territory at the four yard line.

On three plays St. John lost a total of three yards and were forced to punt from their own end zone as the Tiger defense held tough.

Bay High took the football at the Eagle 29. A handoff to Alex Harrington netted seven yards, and Harrington again carried to the 16 for a first-and-ten situation.

Facing a third down and inches for a first down, Benigno kept the ball and reached the four-to-set up a first-and-goal situation.

Harrington got the score on a four yard run. The conversion was good, and the Tigers led 21-17 with just 4:21 remaining.

The Eagles did not give up as they took the kickoff and marched 74 yards for what appeared to be the winning score.

Bay High gained possession of the ball, with just 2:24 remaining to play trailing 24-21.

Benigno's run gave the Tigers their fourth victory of the year.

Next week Bay High (4-5) will be shooting for an even season when they travel to St. Martin (6-2) for the final game of the season.

Bay High's Alex Harrington (34) changes direction with Eagle Center Joe Locklear (52) in pursuit

Bearcats claw Pass Pirates

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Pass Christian Pirates lost to the Long Beach Bearcats, 6 to 18, in their annual rival football contest Friday night in Long Beach.

Both offensive teams relied heavily on the running game and failed on all attempts for conversion points.

A wet field and numerous fumbles also plagued offensive teams.

Pass Christian's only score, early in the fourth quarter, was a 21 yard scramble by Running Back Gene Lang.

Long Beach Running Back Herbert Johnson scored in the middle of the first quarter following a Pirate fumble, recovered by Bearcat Running Back Jimmy Carlisle, on the Pirate 24 yard line.

In three successive running plays Bearcat Running Back James Ware carried the ball to the Pirate 10 yard line to set up the score by Johnson.

Early in the second quarter, in a first and goal situation, Bearcat Herbert Johnson bulldozed his way through the middle of the Pirate's line three yards for the second Long Beach touchdown.

Long Beach's third score came, with a little more than two minutes left in the game, when Johnson again piled through the center of the Pirate defensive line.

Pass Christian Coach Bob Lumkin commented, "We didn't play well in the first half and in fact, the worst ball game we ever played was in the first half."

"Long Beach blew us off the field defensively and pass interceptions also were a problem," Lumkin added.

Bearcat Coach Tom Boszor said, "We played our finest football game tonight."

"We had a real fine overall team effort and we had some people get hurt," Boszor added.

"All of our senior ball players did an outstanding job and they will be sorely missed next year," he said.

Boszor further commented, "Our offensive linemen did a good job and our defense did a good job making the Pirates turn the ball over to us."

"We couldn't let them have the football and we had to keep the ball away from Gene Lang," Boszor explained.

Pass Christian finished the regular season and Long Beach has been invited to play in the Long Beach Jaycee Bowl. St. Paul's of Mobile will visit the Bearcats on Nov. 17 at Long Beach stadium.

Hancock came back from the half time intermission fired up, and took the kick off from their own 37 yard line and scored in less than two minutes.

The touchdown came on a 53 yard romp by Henry through a large hole in the middle of the Hornet defense with 10:03 remaining in the third stanza.

Glass' conversion was wide, and the Hawks led 13-6.

Hancock got off a short kick off, and the Hornets took possession on their 48.

Three plays into the series Silas broke around the end for a 46 yard gain to the 13 yard line, setting up a score on a 13 yard romp by Holt with 8:08 remaining in the third period.

The conversion run by Holt was halted and the Hawks remained in the lead, 13-12.

The Hawks received a penalty for unsportsmanlike conduct and were penalized 15 yards on the ensuing kickoff.

Hancock was forced into a punting situation and gave the ball to the Hornets on the Poplarville 31 yard line.

Following short gains by Silas and Holt, McGill broke loose for a 45 yard touchdown, romping with 3:28 left in the period.

Silas then ran in a two point conversion to give the Hornets

Hornets sting HNC in season finale

By RICH ADAMS

Sports Editor

The Hancock North Central Hawks ended their worst season in years on a sour note Friday night as they fell victim to the Poplarville Hornets 26-13.

"We played a good football game. They just came through at the end. We knew Poplarville is a good team and they just played us all they wanted," the head coach commented.

"We led 7-6 at the half, and it took a good effort on their part to come back and win," he added.

The first quarter was scoreless as each team saw-sawed back and forth between the 20 yard markers.

Hancock kicked off to begin the contest, and on the first series of downs the HNC defense performed well and forced the Hornets to punt.

Hancock took the ball on their own five yard line and alternated runs between Lloyd Henry and Willy Santiago.

The Hawks picked up five first downs on a downfield drive which took them into Hornet territory and on the Hornet 29 yard line during a fourth and long situation, a Bobby Devaughn pass to Santiago was knocked down by the tall Poplarville defense with 12 seconds remaining in the stanza.

The Hornets took over possession at the 29, but were unable to move the ball effectively and were forced to punt again.

Henry was again called on to move the ball, adding 12 yards to his 183 yard total.

Again a flea flicker to Santiago was incomplete, and the Hawks had Faron Hoda boot the ball.

The Hornet backfield, composed of Edward Holt, who ran for 105 yards for the night, 200-pound Ronald McGill who scrapped for 71 on the ground, and Oliver Silas, picking up 141 yards for the evening, combined to take the ball in for a score.

Following a clipping penalty against the Poplarville nine, the Hornets took the ball downfield in 11 plays, highlighted by an 18 yard romp by Silas.

The score came with 1:43 remaining on the clock as Quarterback Kenny Lee hit McGill in the end zone from 10 yards out.

Lee passed to Silas for an apparent two-point conversion, but the ball was called back on an illegal procedure call against the Hornets.

They again went to the air, but Santiago got anxious and hit Silas before the ball arrived, drawing a pass interference call against the Hawks.

Lee went to the air in the third conversion attempt, this time to the opposite side of the field, and missed Holt in the end zone for an unsuccessful conversion making the score 6-0.

Mark Peter's ensuing kickoff went off the side of his foot and Hancock took the ball on their 45 yard line.

Following two unsuccessful aerial attempts by Devaughn, he hit Henry for a seven yard gain and then handed the ball to the speedster for a 40 yard gain to the seven yard line with 44 seconds remaining in the half.

Devaughn then attempted another aerial, but the ball was picked off by Scott Kimball of Poplarville.

A penalty against the Hornets gave Hancock the ball on the Poplarville two yard line, nullifying the interception, and Henry took the ball in with 27 seconds remaining to score.

Keith Glass' conversion attempt was good and the Hawks carried a 7-6 lead.

Hancock came back from the half time intermission fired up, and took the kick off from their own 37 yard line and scored in less than two minutes.

The touchdown came on a 53 yard romp by Henry through a large hole in the middle of the Hornet defense with 10:03 remaining in the third stanza.

Glass' conversion was wide, and the Hawks led 13-6.

Hancock got off a short kick off, and the Hornets took possession on their 48.

Three plays into the series Silas broke around the end for a 46 yard gain to the 13 yard line, setting up a score on a 13 yard romp by Holt with 8:08 remaining in the third period.

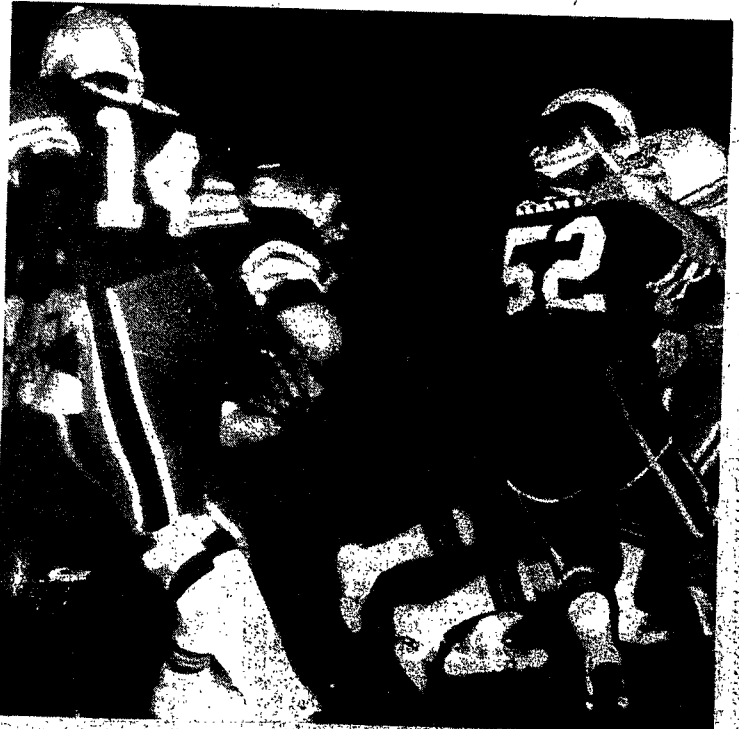

The conversion run by Holt was halted and the Hawks remained in the lead, 13-12.

The Hawks received a penalty for unsportsmanlike conduct and were penalized 15 yards on the ensuing kickoff.

Hancock was forced into a punting situation and gave the ball to the Hornets on the Poplarville 31 yard line.

Following short gains by Silas and Holt, McGill broke loose for a 45 yard touchdown, romping with 3:28 left in the period.

Silas then ran in a two point conversion to give the Hornets

Geese rival dogs for title of 'Man's Best Friend'

Although most people regard the dog as man's best friend, the lowly goose should also be considered as a contender for that title, according to a new book for birds lovers published by the National Wildlife Federation.

This noisy but versatile bird once saved an ancient civilization, helped settle America, and is a shrewd, courageous, valuable addition to any barnyard, the book says.

The goose's story is told in "The Gift of Birds," a 176-page anthology of bird legends, poetry, facts, color photographs, and paintings.

As one of our oldest domesticated birds, the goose has a place in ancient Roman history. Legend has it that the 2nd century, A.D., the Gauls swept through Italy, driving back the Roman armies until only a single garrison was left to guard Capitoline Hill in Rome.

Late one night, the Gauls, planning a surprise attack, noiselessly climbed the steep cliff heading to the Capitoline. At the Summit, they fed the starving watchdogs to keep them quiet, then crept toward the sleeping Roman garrison, unaware that a gaggle of wide-awake grayling geese were also guarding the Hill.

Suddenly, the night filled with shrill calls and honkings, alerting the Romans who sprang to action and routed the Gauls from Rome.

American civilization owes much to this domestic bird, too, according to "The Gift of Birds."

Geese are still used as watchdogs. In Dumbarton, Scotland, 70 or so white geese guard 30 million gallons of whiskey, valued at over $900 million.

Any intruder would be greeted with fanfare of hissing and honking. This web-footed security force has been found to be more effective than dogs, people, or mechanical devices. They work for free, don't drink the scotch, and even lay eggs.

Geese are good farm workers, too, reports "The Gift of Birds."

About a million of them weed fields of cotton, potatoes, corn, asparagus, strawberries, and other crops grown across the U.S.

A pair of geese can clear an entire acre, eating only grass and weed. A dozen or so do the work of one skilled person with a hoe, and are much more economical.

Although there are 40 different kinds of geese, the most common are the wild Canada goose and six domestic breeds which developed from the wild grayling.

Many naturalists believe that the goose has lost fewer of its original characteristics in more than 4,000 years of domestication than any other bird or mammal.

The goose is a hardy animal, with powerful senses of hearing and sight, and often lives to the age of 40 or so.

And while chickens stop laying eggs at about age three, the goose is still going strong at age ten or more. It is also a plucky bird, attacking with its sharp bill any creature that threatens its goslings.

Silly as a goose? Whoever coined that phrase obviously never spent any time with geese, according to "The Gift of Birds," which notes that the animal is a "loyal helper and friend."

For example, the book cites the case of one gander which led his aged, blind mistress to church every Sunday, "taking the hem of her dress to direct her."

He clipped the grass in the nearby cemetery during services, then guided her home again.

"The Gift of Birds" also recounts the natural history of a variety of other birds, examining courtship rituals, migration, and other bird habits. The anthology contains more than 220 full-color photographs and illustrations, with poetry by Emily

Cuevas-Storey engagement told

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Dale Cuevas of Pass Christian announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Dedra Fay to Richard James Storey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Wallace of Standard Community and Ervin J. Storey, Pass Christian.

Miss Cuevas is a 1979 graduate of Pass Christian High School. Her paternal grandparents are Mrs. Mae Martin, Standard Community and the late Bud Cuevas.

Maternal grandparents are Levi Cuevas and the late Mrs. Sedonia Cuevas, Lizana Community. Mr. Storey, a 1979 graduate of Hancock North Central High School, is employed at Southern Shipbuilding, Slidell. His maternal grandparents are Eddie Storey and Mrs. Ethel Dalley, both of Pass Christian.

Pass Club hears Arts Council speaker

The Pass Christian Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Alfred Abauza, November 1, 1979. After being called to order by its president, Mrs. Rosamond Wallace, the chaplain, Mrs. Theo. T. Moore, offered the invocation.

Following routine committee reports, Mrs. Wallace announced the names of three prospective members: Mrs. Philip Saccoccia, Mrs. Crawford Cleveland, and Mrs. William Hopper.

Wild Flower Garden Chairman, Mrs. Drury Dragon, reported on the fine progress plantings in the garden have made despite the drought. She urged all members to go and see for themselves how beautifully it is developing.

Mrs. W. J. Leopley detailed the landscaping under way at the Pass Christian High School, and the fine cooperation being extended by the students and faculty both in planting labor and a dance being given by the students to raise money to help pay for the cost of the plants.

The President announced that the J.C. Penney Co. will contribute a portion of each sale of its Wild Flower pattern linens for the planting of wild flowers along the Coast highways. She also announced that the Pass Christian Isles Golf Club boutique will be held November 17, where there will be a spectacular array of hand crafted items for sale.

If you haven't assembled your Christmas fruit cakes yet, you had better get busy—they'll have time to "mellow" and absorb the "spirits" you pour over them from time to time.

One of my most vivid childhood memories is the heavenly, heavenly aroma that wafted into the kitchen when my Grandmother Barrett—a teetotaler though she was, and most times expected everyone else to be—lifted the covers from the fruitcakes lined up in rows on the pantry shelves, to give each one generous sips of from time to time.

Horticulture Chairman, Mrs. Howard Haines, told of the excellent results she has experienced in using a solution of a dozen eggshells in a pint of water on her house plants. The water can be replenished as necessary.

Mrs. John Murphy then introduced the speaker of the day, Mrs. Bernice Simmons, of the Greater Gulf Coast Arts Council.

Mrs. Simmons opened her remarks by indicating the compatibility of interests of the Garden Clubs and the Arts Council.

Officers installed into OLG Guild

Mrs. Grace Hunter was installed president of our Lady of the Gulf Altar Guild at the Nov. 2 meeting in parish hall.

Father Louis Lohan, who offered the opening prayer, thanked the group for their work in the parish.

Others installed were Mrs. Esther Oschmann, vice president; Mrs. Flora Mauffray, treasurer; Miss Alberta Beyer, recording secretary; Mrs. Oleah Delph, parliamentary; Mrs. Tuleter Oliver, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Juliette Cook, publicity chairman, and Mrs. Elsie DeRoche, historian.

The next meeting will be Thursday, December 6, at 3:15 p.m.

Hospital Auxiliary conducts meeting

Diamondhead Garden Club conducts annual picnic

BY MRS. CLARENCE A. EVANS
As the saying goes—"all Work and No Play Makes Jack a Dull Boy"—and, of course, that applies to Jill too.

So, to offset any chance of her Diamondhead Garden Club members becoming dull, Grace Finley, club president, invited them, together with their husbands, to a picnic at her home.

Tom Ballard, Cassie Boutee, Mabel Martin and Dr. Frances Mayfield. If you are a Garden Club member who was unable to attend this year's picnic, make a special effort for you and your husband to attend the one that will be given next year.

About 50 members and husbands attended, and all agree it was such a "fun" presentation of what are now collector's items—the original tracking maps used by Bob Breck, meteorologist of more beautiful setting in all of Diamondhead than the home of Grace and Joe Finley.

High spot of the evening was the name drawing for presentation of what are now collector's items—the original tracking maps used by Bob Breck, meteorologist of more beautiful setting in all of Diamondhead than the home of Grace and Joe Finley.

Copeland gang ambushed, debanded while camping near Picayune and Gainesville

One of the worst criminals in all the long history of Mississippi preached at revival meetings out east of Picayune, and at Gainesville about 130 years ago.

Charles McGrath, the most infamous of all the Copeland gang, a robber and a murderer, preached in what are now the Salem and Flat Top communities, and conducted at least one revival at Gainesville along about 1849 to 1852.

James Copeland, head of the gang of robbers, in his confession written while in jail at Augusta, Perry County, Mississippi awaiting to be hung, told in detail of the activities of his gang.

But that is not all the information we have about the activities of these criminals. Ellis V. Spiers of Picayune, now deceased, was reared by his grandparents who lived 3 miles east of Picayune.

His grandfather knew Copeland and many of his gang.

When Ellis was a boy growing up he often heard his grandfather tell of his acquaintance and experiences with Copeland and his men.

The Copeland gang ranged far and wide in their robbery business. Copeland tells in his confession of trips to Texas, Arkansas, Alabama, Louisiana and of one trip as far up into Kentucky.

They would assume an appearance of respectability wherever they went. They would pose as prospectors looking for a place to settle, or they carried horses with them and claimed to be horse traders, or they had other excuses for their travels, all of which were legal. On occasion they would even pass themselves off as a religious group.

When the Copeland gang committed a crime they would of course get away as fast as possible. Back then there were no radios, no newspapers, no phones to give them away or publicize their crimes. If there were pursued they would usually outrun them, or murder them. Occasionally they would be followed so closely by superior numbers, or come so under suspicion, that they would go into hiding.

Copeland tells in his confession of several times crossing the river at Gainesville and laying low for months at a time in Honey Island. He also told of hiding out on Catahoula Creek east of Picayune.

It was at times like this that McGrath would go to preaching. He had been trained in youth for the ministry. To throw off suspicion and avoid possible capture the gang would appear as an itinerant religious group going about the country as missionaries.

When hiding out to avoid capture the Copeland gang would divide up into small groups of three or four, or maybe five to the group. One such group camped on Mill Creek about 2 miles southeast of Flat Top and about 9 miles southeast of Picayune in the fall of 1851.

Both Copeland and McGrath were among those camping there. It was while at this Mill Creek camp that the robber gang, pretending to be a religious group, visited in the Salem Area. They held religious meetings at several places in the general area with McGrath doing the preaching.

Since visitors, especially missionaries, were rare in this thinly populated area, these meetings attracted good congregations. Those who heard "Preacher" McGrath said he was a forceful speaker.

The robbers, while hiding out, would keep up this pretense until they felt they could go safely out on one of their tours of crime.

In a neighborhood where they made their headquarters, such as the section southeast of Picayune, or at Gainesville, they were most careful to act as law abiding citizens so as to create confidence and avoid suspicion.

While Gainesville was a much better trading place and nearer their camp, they avoided Gainesville while camped out, on Mill Creek as there were always visitors there, and always the possibility they would be recognized.

Instead, they came into what is now Picayune and traded regularly at the Kimball store in Northwest Picayune on the high bluff where R. H. Crosby Sr. family now lives.

In only one instance did they commit highway robbery while camped down on Mill Creek. A widow living near their camp, and from whom they bought eggs and other things, owed a mortgage of $500 on her home.

A man in Gainesville held the mortgage and had served notice that he would foreclose it unless it were paid at once.

Copeland found out about it and offered to let her have the money to pay the mortgage. She notified the Mortgagee that she was ready to pay off. He went to her home and gave her a receipt in full for the balance due.

On the way back to Gainesville, right in the edge of Gainesville to keep from being suspected, Copeland and one of his men held up the man and got their $500 back, slipping back to their camp without being suspected.

The grandfather of Ellis V. Spiers met the Copeland gang at their religious meetings in the area. The robbers were always looking for new members of their gang and would solicit men to join them whom they thought would be dependable and with plenty nerve.

They did not, however, tell the men they were recruiting what their business was. They would claim to be traders and would paint roost pictures of how much money they made on their trading expeditions over the country.

They would tell how easy it was to make money if a man would join up with them. They had plenty money to show how successful they were. This would greatly impress a man who worked hard and made little.

They persuaded Spiers to join their gang. He went to their camp and they visited him. The fact that they had guns and were continually practicing with them was explained to a recruit as preparation for defense against robbers who might find out they had money and try to rob them.

As the time approached for the robbers to take off on one of their long trips, an older and more decent member of the gang told Spiers, whom he had found to be an honest and law abiding man, what these men really were and what they really did to make so much money.

Spiers could hardly believe it when first informed of the real character of these men. He quit going to see them and he quit attending "Preacher" McGrath's meetings.

The robbers sensed that Spiers must have become wise to them. It was part of their criminal code that any defector must be killed as he might cause them trouble.

Copeland went by Spiers' home one morning, apparently friendly as ever, with his gun and his dogs, telling Spiers that he was on a deer hunt.

He cordially invited Spiers to go with him. Though he knew Copeland's real purpose was to kill him, he could not well refuse to go without bringing out into the open his opposition to having anything else to do with him and his gang.

"Spiers went into the house," very carefully loaded his muzzle loading shotgun, and joined Copeland in the hunt.

Spiers kept his gun cocked and ready. He was most careful not to give Copeland the opportunity to get the drop on him for he knew that Copeland would kill him, then claim it was an accident.

As they warily followed the dogs, each intent on the actions of the other, a big buck came running by in plain view, setting up an easy shot for either of them. Neither man shot the deer. To have done so would have unloaded the gun of the man doing the shooting and resulted in putting him at the mercy of the other, as it took several minutes to reload that kind of gun.

But Spiers did throw up his gun as if to shoot, swinging it in the direction of Copeland as the deer was going that way. Copeland, expecting Spiers to shoot, had let his guard down.

Spiers covered him with his cocked gun, telling him to drop his gun. Spiers then ordered Copeland to walk away from the gun. Spiers then unloaded the bandit's gun, told him to pick it up and get out. Spiers followed him a short distance to see that the man left.

According to the best recollection of Ellis, this incident took place in what is now east Picayune.

Spiers and his family now knew that he was a marked man. He was most careful of his comings and goings, taking care to at no time expose himself to the possible shot of a sniper.

A short time after this incident, there were days and days of tremendous rains. All the streams rose to flood stage.

While Mill Creek, the site of the robber camp, as usually just a trickle of water, it became a wide river-like stream.

The high water gave them the opportunity they wanted, making it possible for the schooner to go up Mill Creek. On a moonlight night, they anchored near the Copeland camp, crept into the camp before the bandits knew what was happening. All were killed except Copeland and McGrath who fled on foot through the woods. The pirates took everything they could find and fled.

A little later Copeland was caught over in Alabama and sentenced to a 4 year term in the Alabama penitentiary. When his 4 year term was up, Mississippi officers were waiting for him at the gate the day he was freed.

He was arrested, brought to Augusta, Perry County, Mississippi, tried for the murder of James Harvey. He was convicted and hung there before a great crowd.

This man Harvey was my wife's great-grandfather.

Disaster aid deadline is Nov. 13

The deadline for filing applications for Hurricane Frederic disaster assistance is just around the corner.

Federal and state officials feel most people are aware of the November 13, 1979 deadline have already applied for help. But there is concern that several thousand people may fail to submit their low-interest loan applications by the cut-off date.

So far, the Small Business Administration (SBA) has handed out 7,529 applications for low-interest business, home, and personal property loans. But by the beginning of November only 3,574 applications had been returned to the agency.

"Persons who, for one reason or another have not applied for or completed disaster loan applications should do so immediately. Applications cannot be accepted after the close of business on November 13, 1979," said Fred Stone, SBA Disaster Branch Manager.

Other forms of disaster assistance, such as temporary housing and individual and family grants, also must be requested in writing by the close of business on November 13.

Disaster assistance applications are currently being accepted at the individual offices of those agencies that offer such aid. Here's a rundown on where to apply for aid:

Low-interest home, personal property and business loans:

Small Business Administration

Biloxi—SBA Disaster Office, 132 E. Washington
Mon.-Fri, 8 am-6pm, Sat., 8am-2pm
Phone 1-601-374-5520 (Biloxi)

Pascagoula—Chamber of Commerce, 825 Denny Avenue,
Mon.-Fri, 8:30am-4:30pm, Sat., 8am-2pm

Hattiesburg—Dept. of Social Services, Carpenter Bldg.

Thursday, 8:30am-4:30pm

Lucedale—Courthouse,
Friday, 8:30am-4:30pm

Help completing applications is also available at all main and branch offices of 12 state-chartered savings and loan associations. Call 1-800-222-6002, toll-free in Mississippi for the location nearest you.

Temporary Housing: Federal Emergency Management Agency Call 497-6960 in the Pascagoula area or 1-800-222-6011 toll-free in Mississippi.

Individual and Family Grants:

State of Mississippi. Contact your County Welfare Department or 1-800-682-5283 toll-free in Mississippi.

Assistance to Elderly: 1-800-222-6002 toll-free in Mississippi, 1-800-672-6920 toll-free in Alabama.

On Thursday, November 1, disaster aid registrations passed 18,000 individuals and families. Of those, nearly 3,000 have applied for temporary housing; 10,677 for individual and family grants; and 453 for loans from Farmers Home Administration, with 2,000 applications anticipated.

Pulpit Points

By Dr. L.S.
Walker

THE AUTUMN SEASON, or, as we so often call it, the "Fall" of the year, has arrived. It is thought by some to be the year's most beautiful season.

It produces a beauty rare indeed, and strikingly different from Winter, Spring or Summer. It is the time of the falling of the leaves, most of which have turned a bright golden hue. Their radiant clashing profusion of colors are profoundly significantly of maturity and age.

They burst forth in early Spring, green and full of life. Now they have lived through the heat and rains of Summer.

They have seen life, tasted and been much a part of it. Now reflecting the experiences of life's riches, they come tumbling leisurely and gracefully to earth's bosom from whence they came.

But life for them has not been in vain! They have lived in nature's best environment to gather oxygen from the atmosphere; not only for their own growth and development, but to give food to the tree making it a larger and stronger tree to grow greater and richer leaves and produce finer fruit come Springtime again.

So their having lived and fallen back to earth has not been for naught. With vigor and purpose they live and grow. The greater their growth while it is time for living and growing, the more their falling will enrich the soil of earth for the betterment of the next generation.

The span of their lives likewise symbolize the outstanding seasons of beauty and purpose in our own lives—childhood, youth, maturity and old age.

If youth and manhood or womanhood are lived useful and fruitful in the eyes of God, then old-age will be beautiful and glorified by it.

"For me to die is gain, but to live is Christ," declared Paul the Apostle. That is to live and die to the glory of God and the edification and enrichment of others—let Christ live in us.

The great question then is this: When we have arrived at the "Fall" season of life's journey, will we have so lived to bless and enrich the lives of those who shall have lived

What will our lives mean to the coming generations?

A mature life, having reached ripe old-age, mellowed by the Spirit of God and years of devoted Christian living, definitely possesses a beauty in striking contrast to any other, and deeply significant and inspiring to those we leave behind.

The life we live here and those divine principles by which we live, will largely determine the course of life for all those lives we have touched along the way.

And finally, let us note: the leaves of Autumn do not change color from the blighting kiss of frost alone, but more so through the mellowing process of natural maturity.

They fall after the summer fruit has ripened and their work is done. Their splendid coloring is but their graceful and beautiful surrender of life when they have finished their summer offering of service to God and man.

Another inspiring lesson gained from the falling of the leaves is this: Do your work well and then be ready to depart the passing scene here when God shall call us to that celestial home above.

Out of the experience of a very rich and eventful life, the Psalmist said: "I have been young, and now am old; yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging bread."

"They shall still bring forth fruit in old age; they be fat and flourishing; to show that the Lord is upright: he is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in him" (Ps. 37:25; 92:14).

"And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper" Ps. 1:3.

State Baptists record million

dollar month

Mississippi Baptists had their first million-dollar month in history when Cooperative Program receipts for missions were $1,018,812 for October, according to Earl Kelly, executive secretary-treasurer of the Mississippi Baptist Convention Board.

The money is channeled through the Board in Jackson to state Baptist agencies with one-third going to missions and education causes of the Southern Baptist Convention outside the state.

The 1979 budget for the work of these agencies in Mississippi is $10 million. Total gifts for the year thus far have been $8,383,348. This is an increase of $1,082,610 over the same period last year, a 14.9 percent rise.

Baptist confab slated in Jackson Nov. 13-15

The 1979 meeting of the Mississippi Baptist Convention will include a vote on an $11.2 million budget and a vote to consider a study on the future of Clarke College.

The convention, meeting at Jackson's First Baptist Church, Nov. 13-15, is the official business meeting for messenger from 2,000 churches which participate in the Mississippi Baptist Convention. The group meets annually for business, inspiration, and fellowship.

The budget to be voted on is the amount of income estimated to come in from participating churches. One-third of that money would be sent out of state of Southern Baptist causes in the nation and around the world. The rest would finance missions and education programs within Mississippi, including the work of 15 state Baptist agencies.

The Mississippi Baptist

Education Commission and the Clarke College Board of Trustees plan to jointly be made of "all possible alternatives concerning the future of Clarke College." The study would be made by the Southern Baptist Education Commission.

The Baptist Junior College in Newton has been facing declining enrollment and declining finances.

Bill Causey, pastor of Parkway Baptist Church in Jackson, is president of the Mississippi Baptist Convention.

Preceding the convention will be the annual Baptist Brotherhood Rally on the evening of Nov. 12, at Parkway Baptist Church in Jackson.

The rally includes a banquet and a conference. The banquet begins at 5:30 p.m. with humorist Eddy Nicholson, "The Rocking Chair Philosopher," and musicians David and Laura Prevost.

The conference begins at 7:30 and features Gene Garrison, pastor of First Baptist Church, Oklahoma City as speaker. Jim Raymick, Parkway's minister of music will sing at the conference.

There's an Answer!

by Norman Vincent Peale
and Ruth Stafford Peale

Hasn't found love

Q. No matter how loyal I am or how much I try to help others, I end up without any close friends. My husband and I are so lonesome. When I hear about Christian love I want to laugh and get bitter. Where is it? I haven't found it yet. I am about to quit going to church. They do not practice love to all, only those who fit their circle. We are not wanted anywhere. Is there a way to make friends? Where do I turn for love?

A. An attempt to get friends by helping others, as loving as that appears, can actually be self-defeating. For when we do good for a reward, the desired result may not come off. Don't expect church people to be perfect. Unfortunately, there are cliques in churches too. Your trouble may be that your husband and you are shy, sensitive people. The secret to having friends is to go all out in liking people for no reason. Just LIKE them, period! And when you go to church, remind yourselves there are others who are just as lonely as you are. Try to discard your shy sensitivity and wholeheartedly enter in. You'll be surprised at how people will like you. Gonna be lonesome.

Q. I need help bad! I'm very moody. I'm losing all my friends and my parents can't stand to be around me. I think I'm two-faced too. One minute I'm telling one friend how sickening another friend acts, but in a few days when I'm over it I'm friends with her again. Please hurry and help. It's gonna be lonesome without my friends.

A. You certainly do a thorough job of self-analysis. And your honesty about yourself is admirable. Even more admirable would be a demonstration of character in which you take charge of yourself. To do that, control your moods instead of allowing them to control you. And simply stop being two-faced and lay off gossip and criticism. Take every one of your weak points and cancel them out with a corresponding strong point. And you will have plenty of friends.

Q. I am a 25-year-old Christian woman and I want to believe that I will be miraculously healed.

For 8 years because of a disease (familial spastic paraplegia—similar to multiple sclerosis) I have found it increasingly hard to walk. I have had to give up several good jobs.

Soon I will be in a wheelchair which I find impossible to accept. So many things are inaccessible to wheelchair-bound people—even in my parents' home in which I now live. If God loves me, why doesn't He heal me?

A. We are going to pray for you that you may be healed. And we ask all readers of this column likewise to pray for you. God answers prayer in three ways, yes, no, or wait awhile. Let's believe you will receive the right answer for you. Never give up believing. Keep your faith going and never doubt God's love.

We are sending you our booklet, "Try Prayer Power," which may be helpful to you. Anyone wishing a free copy may write to us at Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564.

Feels dead inside

Q. I am very lonely. I'm 16 years old. Most of the time, I feel depressed and I have been crying a lot lately. Sometimes I cry for no reason at all. Just when I think I have no more tears I start to cry again. I can't even play my stereo because I start to cry. I feel dead inside, and scared. Could it be a love I will never have? But I think it is more than that. What is wrong with me?

A. Could be the deep unhappiness, even sadness, to which developing youth is sometimes subject. The cause may be an abnormal or emotionally hindered passage out of adolescence. The cause might be emotional depressiveness resulting from lack of normal human relationships—perhaps a feeling of rejection. It could be due to something not revealed in your question. But whatever the cause, this kind of emotional ill health is curable through proper guidance. Consult your local mental health clinic and/or your pastor, doctor or a professional counselor.

We are sending you our booklet, 12 Steps to a Happy and Successful Life, which has helped others with problems such as yours. Anyone wishing a free copy may write to us at Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564.

Sports versus family life

Q. I have always believed that supertime is the perfect time for family fellowship, as well as family devotions. However, our children (age 10 and 13) are on ball teams and it has been nearly impossible to eat together! I love sports, and I really wouldn't deny them the fun with their friends. But surely, team schedules must be breaking down family life. Is there any solution?

A. One has to be flexible and adjustable to circumstances and this often enhances family solidarity rather than detracting from it. May we say that in bringing up our own children we found that family devotions took on added meaning and excitement when the time frame was varied and the format innovative.

We were always present for their sports events. They, in turn, understood that spiritual values undergird all of life. We had a great time living, playing and praying together.

Bay High School Marching Band

Tiger Band receives superiors

The Bay High School Tiger Pride Band competed Saturday, November 3 in the Picayune Band Contest. Tiger Pride is under the direction of Glen Page, assisted by Mrs. Carolyn Hamilton.

In Picayune, the band members were rated "Superior" in all categories. Tiger Pride was awarded a "one" in marching competition, with drum major Gary Adam also receiving a "one" for his performance.

Also, the auxiliary earned a "one". Terri Godwin is rifle captain, Vickie Young is flag captain with Joy Gonzales as co-captain of the flag corps.

Tiger Pride's percussion section was awarded a superior rating. Section leader of the drums is Jerry Manieri.

Besides the chaperone who accompanied Tiger Pride to Picayune, several parents drove up to watch the competition and were on hand to congratulate the young people when they were rated "all superior."

Mayor Larry Bennett of Bay St. Louis and the Hancock County Sheriff's department as well as the office of Mayor

John Longo in Waveland arranged an official escort who met the triumphant returning Band at the junction of U.S. Highway 90 and Highway 603.

With about 25 cars of relatives and friends following the buses from that point, Tiger Pride was escorted to their band hall.

Energy efficient house constructed in Waveland

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
One of the first modern energy efficient homes in Hancock County has been constructed by a local builder and the owners are happily proud of the cost-saving features incorporated into their seaside residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Marks, a semi-retired Harahan couple, recently purchased their utility-saving Ashman and Sons, Inc. home from Mollere Realty (both Waveland corporations).

The all-electric home's energy saving features include: a solar water heater, thermopane windows, 10 inches of insulation in the ceiling, four inches of insulation plus vapor-lock foam insulation in the outside walls, a central "heat pump," numerous soffit vents, thermostatically controlled attic vents, wall-to-wall carpeting and a large fireplace.

A most notable feature of the Marks' home is their solar water heater.

The futuristic looking water heating device mounts on the hip roof's southern exposure, allowing maximum heating from the sun.

The double-doamed roof apparatus works in conjunction with a 60 gallon water storage tank below, in a utility room. The tank has an auxiliary water heater that automatically activates if sustained cloudy weather blocks the heating rays of the sun.

Katherine Marks proudly remarks, "We never seem to run out of hot water with this system."

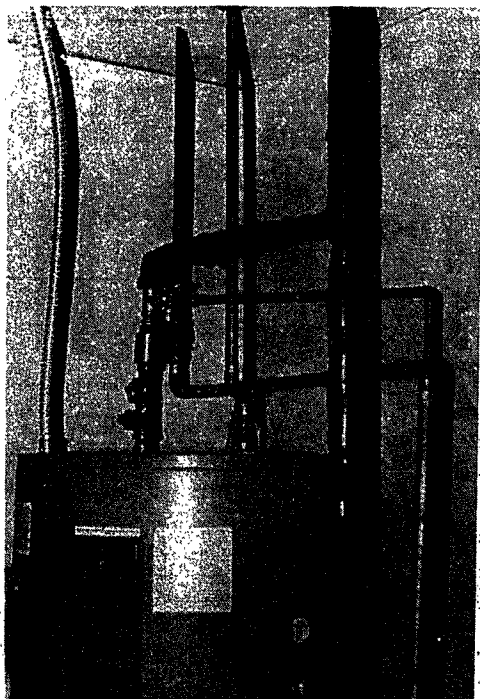

Irving Marks said he hopes to increase the energy efficiency of their home by installing a fireplace heat circulation device.

An evaluation of energy saved is not yet available because the Marks' just recently moved into their home.

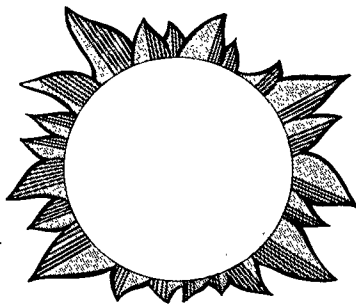

However, Irving Marks is sure there home's construction and energy saving features, will help them realize a considerable savings in electric energy use.

SENIOR CITIZEN EVENTS

BY MS. PETE CARR

I am filling the column with random thoughts. It's one of those days nothing seems clear and no matter what loose end is picked up there still remains a pile of loose ideas - nothing to cement anything together.

Days like that I like to return to my love of nature - such a healing power. Have you noticed the harvest moon this past week? First it announces itself clothed in filmy white on the horizon - then turns a soft orange and just before turning into the soft pale moon high in the sky - it turns into its deepest orange.

There is nothing more soothing than riding or walking along the beach road, the light of the moon flooding the landscape or seascape with a softness and gentleness not unlike the softness and gentleness of a mother's love.

I was thinking of criticism - constructive and destructive...the first leading to a goal to be achieved...the latter destroying without substituting anything better than what has been destroyed.

On a more cheerful note - "hats off" to all the volunteers in the program. You are one of the some 290 in the Retired Senior Citizens Volunteer Program - better known as RSVP.

Some of us are able to give more time than others, based on our respective reserve of energy and circumstances. Being one of 290 makes it impossible to list your names, but again "Hats Off" to each and every one of you.

Here are some of the places where you can be found - The American Red Cross, Civil Defense, Headstart, Hancock County Humane Society, Hancock County Public Library, United Way, Hospital Auxiliary, Chamber of Commerce, in the office of RSVP, Information and Referral Services, Serving meals at the Nutritional Center, etc.

Some of you under the foregoing program visit over the phone with those who are shut-in for one reason or another; transporting some to the doctor, doing light housework and cooking for those unable to do so, providing meals for others, and in the Hancock County Recreational Department providing teachers for the various classes.

You also serve Pearlinton and Kiln by taking blood pressures as well as some recreation in those areas. We find you at the Waveland Hospitality House seven days a week providing guidance and information to tourists, etc.

A new program has opened up, for which some of you have volunteered, finds you assisting teachers in the special education classes in the Bay St. Louis Schools.

There is also project "Do" which exposes young people to the older generation. They see that some are fortunate to be able and active, and others who need warmth and understanding and made to feel a human being, whose memories and a way of life could be informative and interesting of days long past if someone would stop, look and listen and hold out a friendly hand.

Young faces are so appealing that it's a pleasure to see them walking around the elderly.

There is also the Child Development Center where you can be found and last, but not least, are the bakers of cakes that are served at a moment's notice at Birthday parties and different affairs held at the Center - Thank you each and every one for your dependability.

Well the loose end turned out to be longer than I thought it to be and I do hope its been informative and that we all in the community appreciate what is being done.

As for the bazaar held last Monday - the day was perfect, the setting was beautiful and we know that the elderly enjoyed basking in the sun which was warm and friendly.

Our Mayor and his wife ate heartily of hot dogs and sandwiches mingling and talking with everyone, and of course, their little girl fitting in and out on the lawn added the touch of youth's abounding energy.

Morrison performs in Coast recital

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Ms. Norma Morrison of Bay St. Louis participated in a piano recital Thursday evening at Phillip's business college in Gulfport.

Students of piano teachers, members of the Gulf Coast Piano Teachers Association, participated in the recital.

Ms. Morrison, the only Hancock County student in the program, played the "Starlight Waltz" and "Mardi Gras Rock."

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Morrison and a student of Kathleen Asher of Hancock County.

The piano teacher's association also had their monthly meeting at the home of Lorraine Powell, in Biloxi, recently.

Mrs. Margaret Shaw of Gulfport played "Dedication" by Shumann-Liszt and "Prelude in C" by Prokofiev.

In other business Asher was nomination, publicity chairman for Harrison County. She was previously Hancock County's publicity chairman.

The group meets every first Thursday of each month at 9:30 a.m. at a member's home on a rotating basis.

For further information call Ms. Asher at 467-7406.
